Urban Transformations: Centres, Peripheries and Systems

Edited by Daniel P. O'Donoghue,
Canterbury Christ Church University, UK

'A remarkable collection of essays on urban transformations with a truly global reach. This edited volume deserves to be widely read.'
Martin Sokol, Trinity College Dublin, Ireland

This book explores the role of cities, their influence and the transformations they have undertaken in the recent past, the ways in which cities regenerate, how plans change, how they are governed and how they react to the economic realities of the day. Bringing together studies from around the world at different scales, from small town to megacity, this volume captures a snapshot of some of the changes in city centres, suburbs, and the wider urban region. In doing so, it provides a deeper understanding of the evolving form and function of cities and their associated peripheral regions as well as their impact on modern twenty-first century landscapes.
