

Update on the Edward Elgar IGU Series: The International Geographical Union Series on Contemporary Geographies

Series Editors: Iain Hay & Holly Barcus

Website: <https://www.e-elgar.com/shop/usd/book-series/environment/the-international-geographical-union-series-on-contemporary-geographies.html>

The EE IGU Series is gaining momentum with an increased number of submissions and proposals in review (see details below). Editors Hay and Barcus continue to encourage submissions and advocate for promoting the series by EC members through their various networks and activities.

- 1) Total number of published books, available for purchase (2):
 - a. 2021 Barney Warf, Geographies of Cosmopolitanism
 - b. 2023 Monica Stephens, Jessie P.H. Poon, Gordon K.S. Tan, Misinformation in the Digital Age: An American Infodemic
- 2) Total Forthcoming (1):
 - a. 2026 Phil McManus, Extreme Weather and the Media: Communicating Disasters and Climate Change (expected release June 2026)
- 3) Accepted proposals with manuscripts in-progress (2)
- 4) Total proposals in review (2)

In January, the series shifted from our long-term publisher at Edward Elgar, Katy Crossan to our new publisher contact, Stephanie Mills. We want to sincerely thank Katy for all her efforts with the series and warmly welcome Steph to the IGU series.

We are also exploring with Edward Elgar ways of better promoting the Series through social media and other channels.